At Campus Y, we empower student leaders to transform their passions into meaningful community engagement.

OUR MISSION

Serving the WashU community since 1911, the organization offers 23 student-led community engagement programs. More than 400 students participate in our programs each year, providing much-needed services throughout the community.

LEAD. SERVE. ENGAGE.

LEADING through mentorship and hands-on experience, students build skills in organization, teamwork, and advocacy, preparing them for leadership.

SERVING through student-led programs addressing community needs, fostering volunteerism, connection, and empathy through partnerships with local organizations.

ENGAGING with students and residents, strengthening campus life and community ties through meaningful initiatives and lasting relationships.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

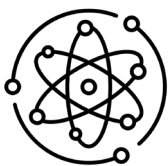

DIABETES PREVENTION INITIATIVE

In collaboration with the Y's Community Health Team, student leaders have explored local clinics, partnered with local community gardens and public health initiatives to address food insecurity in North St. Louis and the Metro East.

AMERICA READS

Student leaders support youth academic success through community partnerships. This year, leaders collaborated with Turn the Page STL to pilot a phonics-based tutoring program. Highlights: 142 youth tutored at STL Public Libraries and Schools.

SCIENCE OLYMPIAD

A national STEM competition program for youth hosted by student leaders for the first time in person at WashU. Highlights: 250 middle school students served in the fall, 550 high school students served in the spring. Student leaders will continue to launch new teams and expand access.

SAFE TRICK OR TREAT

In collaboration with more than 20 other student-led organizations, student leaders welcomed more than 300 community members to a safe trick or treating experience for families while building community among students on campus.

EINSTEIN EXPLORERS

A student-led STEAM program brought to children in hospitals and after-school programs. This year, their reach expanded to St. Louis and Ritenour Public Schools.
